Not illustrated. 1845 Excerpt: . he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from his goats: and he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on his left. A place of dignity also--Jesus Christ is exalted there. A place of conquest: This honour have all his saints. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit down with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne. He that comes off more than conqueror shall sit down at the right hand of Jesus. The Christian well compared to a soldier. Heaven, then, is a place as well as a state. I go to prepare a place for you, said our Lord to his disciples.--We must attach space to bodies--Moses, Enoch, Elijah, and the bodies of the saints. II. The nature of our state. Joy and pleasures. Metaphysical definition. Joy may signify here the delight arising from the direct immediate enjoyment of God; and pleasure, the collateral sources of happiness which heaven shall furnish. We need not separate them, but, uniting them, understand, 1. The fulness, the perfection of our happiness--joy. 2. The perpetuity of it--for evermore! But wherein shall this happiness consist? Eye hath not seen nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive, what God hath prepared for them that love him. Impossible for man to utter; but we may follow Revelation safely. (Swedenberg.)...
