Reviews

*This pdf might be well worth a study, and a lot better than other. It really is simplistic but excitement inside the fifty percent in the book. Its been printed in an exceedingly straightforward way which is just after i finished reading this ebook through which really modified me, modify the way i believe.

Not illustrated. 1866 Excerpt: . terminating either in rain only, or at the utmost, in a few hours squally weather. In 1859 the Barometer, at the end of September, was as much above the average as in 1864, but was followed by no Cyclone. The different Barometer curves such as we have them are given on Plate VI. A great discrepancy will be observed between the two curves for Calcutta. This is partly accounted for by the difference of the instruments, the standard being more sensitive than that observed by Mr. Cogswell, and partly by Mr. Cogswell s observations having been made at shorter intervals during the height of the storm, and by their being unreduced for temperature; but we cannot but consider that the 3 o clock observation of the standard has been erroneously read or recorded, whether owing to the emotional perturbation of the observer, or other causes. The minimum is added from a compared Aneroid observed within a short distance of the Observatory by one of the authors. It would be idle to discuss the probable cause of the difference between the minima of the Calcutta and Barrackpore observations and that between the latter and Moisingunj, as those of Barrackpore were made with an Aneroid that has been compared and corrected only for the small ordinary daily range varying from 0.1 to 0.15 of an inch. A similar remark applies to the comparison of the Contai and other curves. The irregular pumping motion of the Barometer during...
