But, on the other hand, as his tales and artifices prevented Surajah Dowlah from believing the representations of his most trusty servants, who early suspected, and at length were convinced, that the English were confederated with Jaffier; the 2,000,000 of rupees rupees he expected should have been paid to him, and he left to enjoy them in oblivion and contempt. On the ad of July, two days after the conference at the Sea s, news came to the city that Surajah Dowlah was taken, and the report excited murmurs amongst a great part of the army encamped around. The rowers of his boat, fatigued with excessive toil, stopped in the night at Rajah Mahal, and...
